higher education in the twenty first century should bring together freedom and knowledge with courage and hope why these four concepts as goodson argues in strength of mind higher education in the twenty first century offers preparation for ordinary life freedom and knowledge serve as the conditions for cultivating courage and hope within one s ordinary life more specifically courage and hope ought to be understood as the virtues required for enjoying ordinary life if college educated citizens wish to hold onto the concepts of courage and hope however then both courage and hope need to be understood as intellectual virtues as a moral virtue courage has become outdated as a theological virtue hope violates the logic of the golden mean focusing on intellectual virtues also requires shifting from moral perfectionism to rational perfectionism rational perfectionism involves keeping impossible demands in view for oneself while constantly and continually striving for one s unattained but attainable self goodson defends these arguments by learning from the bits of wisdom found within american transcendentalism emerson cavell german idealism kant hegel jewish philosophy maimonides spinoza putnam neo pragmatism putnam rorty west post modern theories about pedagogy nietzsche foucault rorty and secular accounts of perfectionism murdoch cavell perfectionism is one of the great moralities of the western tradition it holds that certain states of humans such as knowledge achievement and friendship are good apart from any pleasure they may bring and that the morally right act is always the one that most promotes these states defined more narrowly perfectionism identifies the human good by reference to human nature if knowledge and achievement are good it is because they realize aspects of human nature this book gives an account of perfectionism first in the narrower sense analyzing its central concepts and defending a theory of human nature in which rationality plays a central role it then uses this theory to construct an elaborate account of the intrinsic value of beliefs and actions that embody rationality and applies this account to political questions about liberty and equality the book attempts to formulate the most defensible version of perfectionism using contemporary analytic techniques it aims both to regain for perfectionism a central place in contemporary moral debate and to shed light on the writings of classical perfectionists such as aristotle aquinas hegel marx nietzsche and t h green
